

“Bringing Genetic Counselling to Rural Communities”

“Empowering Families with Knowledge and Support”

Introduction:

“Genetic counselling is crucial for individuals and families to understand genetic conditions and make informed healthcare decisions. However, access to these services is often limited in rural areas. We are proud to announce the establishment of our first Genetic Counselling Clinic (We Know Genetix) in Kamareddy, a step towards bridging this gap.”

The Importance of Genetic Counselling

“Genetic counselling provides personalized information and support to people who have, or may be at risk for, genetic disorders. It helps in:

- Understanding genetic conditions and inheritance patterns.
- Making informed medical and lifestyle decisions.
- Accessing resources and support networks.”

Our Mission:

“Our mission is to make genetic counselling accessible to everyone, regardless of their location. By establishing clinics in rural areas, we aim to:

- Improve awareness and education about genetic conditions.
- Provide support and guidance to affected families.
- Enhance early diagnosis and intervention through community outreach.”
